Saint Mary of the Cross

This week we celebrate the feast of St Mary of the Cross (Mary MacKillop)

In 1867, Mary MacKillop became the first sister and mother superior of the newly formed order of the Sisters of St Joseph of the Sacred Heart, and, at age 25, she adopted the religious name Sister Mary of the Cross. Dedicated to the education of the children of the poor, it was the first religious order to be founded by an Australian. Their rules emphasised poverty, a dependence on divine providence, no ownership of personal belongings, faith that God would provide and willingness to go where needed. The Josephite nuns became colloquially known as the Brown Joeys.

By the end of 1869, more than 70 Josephite nuns were educating children at 21 schools in Adelaide and the country and, by 1871, 130 nuns were working in more than 40 schools and charitable institutions across South Australia and Queensland. The Josephites expanded their operations into New South Wales and New Zealand.

Pope Leo XIII made the Josephites into a canonical Congregation in 1885, with its headquarters in Sydney.

The Sisters of St Joseph first came to Northampton in WA in 1887 and in January 1915 the Sisters came to South Perth to run St Columba's School. Currently, there are approximately 800 Sisters ministering throughout Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Peru, East Timor, Scotland and Brazil.

Mary MacKillop died on 8 August 1909 in the Josephite convent in North Sydney and was beatified on 19 January 1995 by Pope John Paul II.

Her canonisation took place on 17 October 2010. This made her the first Australian saint.

Feast of St Mary of the Cross Mackillop

The parish will celebrate the feast day of St Mary Mackillop (8 August) on Sunday 12 August after the 9.30am mass. Everyone is invited, and is asked to bring something to share for morning tea. Please put this in your diary.
